Letter of recommendation

February 15, 2024

“Sønning´s book contains crucial interdisciplinary content, not found anywhere else. It is a guide to making supplementary competence teams between the creative and management sides of stage productions. Through Erasmus networks, I have seen the great benefit for business, management, visual art, graphic design, media, and music students combined.”

I would suggest that the Routledge publisher translates the book to German. Even though a lot of core literature is in English, books in German will always be prioritized by professors and students if they are relevant and meet the requirements.
